

WEBINAR

– Digital populism: fake news, political leaders and incivility on social networks –

Organised by the French Institute in Budapest and the Centre for Social Sciences, Centre of Excellence of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences (TK)

PROGRAM

Thursday 11th, March 2021 – Online

---

In French, English and Hungarian with simultaneous translation.

17:00 – 18:55     Roundtable « Digital populism: a real threat for our present and our future? »

Moderation: Zsolt Boda, Research Professor and General Director of the Centre for Social Sciences, Centre of Excellence of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences

Participants:

- Péter Krekó, Director of the Political Capital Institute; Department of Social Psychology of Eötvös Loránd University PPK ;
- Martin Baloge, Doctor in political sciences, Post-doctoral fellow at the University of Lorraine, Research Centre on Mediations;
- Artur Lipiński, Assistant Professor at the Department of Political Science and Journalism, Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznan;
- Gabriella Szabó, Senior Research Fellow the Centre for Social Sciences, Centre of Excellence of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences
- Nicolas Hubé, Professor at the University of Lorraine, Research Centre on Mediations

18:55 – 19:00     Conclusion